OUTLINES.

In a suit for damages against the Atlantic Coast Line, Justice Gary of the South Carolina Supreme Court, yesterday held that the company is a domestic corporation or else is a trespasser in South Carolina; his ruling is contrary to that of United States Circuit Judge Pritchard, who held that the A. C. L. is a Virginia corporation ——Secretary Loeb gave it out yesterday that Japan has entered no protest against sending the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific and that it is making ready to go——Martin W. Littleton, who nominated Aalton B. Parker for President in the Democratic National Convention, will be Harry Thaw's leading counsel at his next trial——At the Democratic primaries in Mississippi yesterday John Sharp Williams beat Governor Vardaman for the United States Senate——The delegates at the Hague Peace conference yesterday were stirred by the eloquence of the American delegates, Joseph H. Choate and James Brown Scott, who urged peace and not war for civilized nations; they presented the plan of the United States for a great court to be presided over by judges from all nations, which shall hear and arumbitrate disputes between the world powers——The receipts for the Britt-Nelson fight in San Francisco night before last were $25,000; Nelson is still laid up from his terrible drubbing at Britt's hands——The Georgia Senate yesterday passed the House prohibition bill and after it goes back to the house for a slight amendment it will go to Governor Smith for his signature——Japanese troops at Seoul, Korea, while disarming Korean troops were resisted and a battle lasting several hours was fought; 60 Koreans were killed——At San Pedro, California, yesterday four men lost their lives lives when a trestle collapsed with a train loaded with stone——The "grave yard" section of New York was again horrified yesterday by the discovery that another atrocious crime had been committed, the body of an eight-year-old girl, shockingly mistreated and mutilated, having been found in a cellar; an Italian shoemaker was arrested and a mob demolished his shop——New York markets: Money on call firm 2 3-4 to 3 1-2 per cent., ruling rate 3 1-2, closing bid 2 1-2; offered at 3; spot cotton quiet at 13; flour dull and barely steady; wheat quiet, No. 2 red 96 1-8 elevator and 98 3-8 F. O. B. afloat; corn easy, No. 2 61 elevator, and 60 1-2 afloat; oats firm, mixed 59 1-2; turpentine and rosin steady.

The outlook for Georgia pharmacists is bright. The Legislature seems bent on passing the Hardeman prohibition bill.

Lillian Russell was before a Washington Police Court on Tuesday under a charge of vagrancy. Lillian happens to be a "cullud pusson".

Brigadier General Chas. Francis Powell, U. S. A., who died July 30th, at St. Paul, Minn., was a native of South Carolina. He was graduated from West Point in 1867 and was 63 years of age.

It seems to be settled that the Georgia Legislature is going to pass a prohibition law for the whole State. Atlanta may as well give up her aspiratoins to have any National conventions to meet in that city.

Remarks the Washington Post: "The Governor Glenn Presidential boom is likely to make its appearance almost any day now." Nuh! The Governor has already taken horse sense by the forelock and sat down on his boom.

Yea, verily, today we are champions. Tomorrow, or sooner or later, however, somebody gives us a biff that puts us out of commission. Every man will see the day that somebody can walk his log. Every Battling Nelson has his Jimmy Britt.

A Berlin paper blames President Roosevelt for the circulation of rumors of war between the United States and Japan. The Berlin paper should know that Secretary Loeb is still there to take the blame when things go wrong.

August 13th to 16th is North Carolina Week at the Jamestown Exposition. Governor Glenn has issued a proclamation urging all of us to go. We'll come very nearly doing that very thing. See the North Carolina exhibit when you go.

Former Vice President Adlai Stevenson has been spending the week at the Jamestown Exposition. On Wednesday, in an iterview, he declared that Bryan is his favorite for President, but he was not so sure that the Nebraskan would accept another nomination. There is a rumor from Washington that former Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, is to be Bryan's running mate next year.

Contract adveritsers who wish change of matter to appear in the Sunday Star are earnestly requested to hand in copy by Friday forenoon. If later than Friday afternoon insertion in the Sunday issue will not be guaranteed. 2t

WRECK ON SEABOARD

Wilmington Train From Charlotte Crashed Into Freight Cars at Laurinburg, N. C.

ACCIDENT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Several Passengers Slightly Hurt, Including Conductor Beery—Was There Deliberate Attempt to Wreck the Train?

Seaboard Air Line passenger train No. 44, due here yesterday morning at 1:25 A. M., this being the first of the Seaboard trains to run under the Coast Line shed under the new arrangements for union depot facilities between the two roads, did not arrive until after 7 o'clock yesterday morning, over five hours late. The delay was caused by a rather ugly wreck which occurred just as the train was pulling into the station at Laurinburg about 9 o'clock at night. A string of cars on the siding there in some unaccountable way was run out on the main line and the passenger train rounding a curve there under pretty good speed, dashed into them with powerful impact. Passengers were thrown from their seats and some of them were slightly but not seriously injured. A lady passenger and the colored porter on the train were perhaps the worst injured. All were given the best of attention.

The engine of passenger train was disabled and another had to be put into commission to bring the train on to Wilmington. Captain W. L. Beery, of this city, was the conductor in charge of the train and he was thrown violently from a position standing. He was hurt slightly in the side but was able to be out yesterday.

How the cars came to be on the main line, whether it was by accident or design, the officials of the Seaboard are investigating. It is learned that the switchstands were all found properly set and the frogs in order. It would appear from this that the cars had been rolled out to meet the incoming train with the purpose of wrecking it. It is understood that if this theory is established from the official investigation, that detectives will be put on the track of those who committed the act.

The train went out yesterday morning about four hours late, a number of Wilmington passengers having arisen at the early hour expecting to get off at the schedule time of 4 o'clock. However, from the Wilmington office all information was given possible in regard to the time of expected arrival.

ORGANIZE SALVAGE CORPS

Insurance Men Met City Officials Yesterday Afternoon—Action.

Profiting by the experience of the fire Wednesday afternoon when large damage resulted in the clothing store of I Shrier, northeast corner of Front and Princess streets, because no provisions have heretofore been made for protecting themselves from water damage, the Local Board of Underwriters met Chairman French, of the City Fire Committee, and Chief Chas. Schnibben yesterday afternoon and considered the matter of organizing a salvage corps to work in conjunction with the Fire Department in the interest of the insurance companies. This plan is quite generally adopted in the larger cities and the Local Board of Underwriters decided to put it up to the large companies which they represent to purchase the necessary tarpaulins for the protection of stocks and all other paraphernalia to be used by an up-to-date salvage corps which it is proposed to organize to consist of three men. It was decided that if the insurance men would provide the men, the city would furnish them sleeping quarters in connection with its own department.

President John VanB. Metts and Secretary S. M. Boatwright, of the Local Board, were present at the meeting yesterday with other insurance men and will take the matter up at once with the companies which have large risks here. This will be done through the National Board of Underwriters with which the local organization is affiliated.

At the Spiritualist Camp.

Friends in this city pleasantly remember Mr. George A. Letford, who is known on the road as the "drummer medium." Lately souvenir postal cards have reached his friends in Wilmington indicating that he is at Grand Ledge, Mich., at a Spiritualist Camp, which has been established there. Mr. Letford has given a number of seances to friends in this city, and they will be interested to know of his visit to Grand Ledge.

CITY BOARD OF HEALTH

Regular Monthly Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon—Sewerage and Sanitary Conditions Generally Discussed—Report for July

The regular monthly meeting of the City Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon in the office of the Mayor at the City Hall. The session was largely taken up with the discussion of matters pertaining to sewerage, drainage and the street cleaning. These matters were carefully gone over and in several instances expedients were adopted by which it is hoped that there will be a general improvement in conditions as they obtain in the several departments. The new contract system of removing the city garbage is being worked out as fast as possible and the Board of Health yesterday afternoon discussed various ways and means by which the best results my be obtained.

Present at the meeting were Mayor W. E. Springer, presiding, Dr. Charles T. Harper, secretary; City Engineer Raymond Humphreys, Drs. Andrew H. Harriss and T. S. Burbank. The meeting continued from 4 until after 6 o'clock and a number of routine and unimportant matters were disposed of.

The monthly report of Dr. Andrew H. Harriss, acting superintendent of health during the absence of Dr. Harper, was read and approved. It shows that during July there were 55 deaths from all causes, 23 of the decedents being white and 23 colored. There were 31 births reported, eight being white and 23 colored. The health officers made 4,864 inspections, issued 775 orders for disinfectants, quarantined one case of smallpox and did eight fumigations.

The monthly report of the superintendent with other recommendations to the Board of Aldermen will be transmitted at the regular monthly meeting Monday night.

'TWAS ON THE JUDGE.

Wanted to Halt a Late Car From the Beach Wednesday Night.

After he had been put wise, Justice Bornemann confessed yesterday at his office the joke was all on him. It was on the last car coming up from the Beach Wednesday night, and the Judge was seated near the rear of one of the suburban cars as the train was passing over Bradley's Creek trestle. Conscious of duty well performed in having seen that there were no breaches of the peace at Lumina during the evening, his head rested on his palm and he was about to pass into Slumber Land, when suddenly there was a loud report almost under the Judge beneath the car. The Judge awoke from semi-consciousness with a stern command to stop the car. The conductor was wise and remonstrated with the magistrate, but the minion of the law would have none of it. Some one had fired at the car and as a justice of the peace of New Hanover county he demanded that the train be stopped and that he be given an opportunity of going back to see who had done the mischief. The conductor emphasized the necessity of making schedules, and the Judge finally relented, but all day yesterday he ruminated in his mind the obstinacy of that conductor. The man who fired in the car or who attempted blow it up with a bomb should have been run to earth. Who knew, contemplated the Justice, but that some evil doer smarting under conviction in his court in the past, had known that he was a passenger on the car and had attempted to blow it up a la Russia.

Just then a coterie of ladies came into the office and laughed. The Judge greeted them smilingly, but could not understand the hilarity. One of them then explained that she was the bomb thrower; that she had secured a torpedo at the beach and coached by the same obstinate conductor, she had exploded it suddenly just where it would attract the greatest attention from the majesty of the law. Judge Bornemann took the joke in good part and told it on himself.

CLERKS OF COURT TO MEET

Officials of County Will Meet at Greensboro This Month.

The first annual meeting of a State organization of the clerks of Superior Courts in the counties of North Carolina will be held at Greensboro on August 14th and 15th at the McAdoo Hotel. Special rates have been given and a large attendance is expected judging by the interest being shown as indicated by circular letters received in this city Clerk D. H. Houston, of Monroe, Union county, is one of the prime movers in the organization and thinks that a compact organization of the clerks in the State will result in mutual advantage. Once there was an effort to organize the sheriffs of the State but the present plan to hold a convention of the clerks is possibly the first record of public officers in the several counties forming a State organization.

Funeral of Mr. Collier.

The funeral of the late James Knight Collier, who passed away at the family home in this city Wednesday morning, will be held from St. James' Church this morning at 11 o'clock and the remains will be laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery. Absent members of the family have arrived to attend the obsequies.

PUT RATE IN EFFECT

President of Carolina and Northwestern in New York Comes to Time.

THE NEWS FROM RALEIGH

Convicts Sent to Lumberton for Railroad Construction — Death At Rocky Mount—Early Settlement in North Carolina.

(Special Star elegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., August 1.—President W. A. Barber, of the Carolina and Northwestern Railway, today telegraphed Governor Glenn from New York that his road would put the 2 1-4 cent rate into effect August 8th. It was President Barber with whom the Governor had a lively exchange of telegrams night before last, the New Yorker replying sarcastically to the State officer and the latter replying that if the law was continued in disregard, the railroad would be at its own peril. The telegram sets the matter at rest so far as the Carolina and Northwestern is concerned.

Thirty-two convicts who were recently brought here from work on the Wilkesboro and Jefferson turnpike in Ashe county, were sent today to Lumberton to begin work on the line building to Fayetteville from that point.

Professor Lewis T. Royall, who was principal of Ashpole Institute during the past year, was in Raleigh yesterday on business. He has accepted the principalship of the Selma graded school. He is succeeded at Ashpole by Professor S. D. Cole, of Red Springs, former Superintendent of Public Instruction for Cumberland county.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., August 1.—Governor Glenn says newspaper representatives who quoted him as saying the presidential boom for him at least to some extent in this State was to "sidetrack him," misrepresented him. He said that he appreciated the high compliment but thoght this was not a time when a Southern Democrat shold be nominated.

A charter is issued to the Hall Hardware Company, of Benson, N. C., capital $25,000 by E. L. Hall and others to do a general hardware business.

News was received here today of the death of A. A. Thorpe at his home in Rocky Mount after a lingering illness. He was formerly in Wilmington with the Atlantic Coast Line. He was about 35 years old and a son of W. L. Thorpe, mayor of Rocky Mount. The funeral will be at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at Rocky Mount. His kinsman, Colonel A. H. Arrington, private secretary to Governor Glenn, has gone to attend the funeral.

Frank Simpson, the architect, has gone to Fayetteville to look after some matters preliminary to the awarding of the contract for the buildings on the new site for the State Normal for negroes there. The buildings are to cost about $10,000 and the plans are by Simpson.

A "Jamestown" pamphlet is being prepared by Secretary R. D. W. Connor, of the North Carolina Historical Commission, for distribution at the Exposition during North Carolina Week, the special purpose being to set before the public incidents connected with the early settlement of America that are not generally known, especially that the first settlement was on the North Carolina Coast, the settlement of Jamestown being a part of Sir Walter Raleigh's plan when he located the first colony which was later lost and that the surviving charter members of the original company that brought over the "lost colony" to the Carolina Coast, were later among the charter members of the Jamestown company.

A CHARGE OF TRESPASS

Land Complication That Will be Investigated This Morning.

Young Mr. Alonzo J. Burriss, who recently rented the property on Castle, between Third and Fourth streets, as a ball ground for the Southside League, was haled to Justice Bornemann's court yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Frederick Hall, a colored man, charging him with forcible trespass. The alleged trespass consisted in the removal of an old house on the premises with which to erect a grandstand for the ball diamond. Mr. Burriss received permission from the Howe estate to remove the old building and to convert the plank to other purposes ,but it seems that Hall claims an interest in the property and could only protect his claim by issuing the warrant for Mr. Burriss, who has employed Colonel A. M. Waddell to defend him. Hall has engaged John D. Bellamy & Son to appear for him and the trial will be held this morning at 10 o'clock.

Consolidated Fire House.

Yesterday noon was the hour at which final bids for the construction of the fire and market house at Fourth and Campbell streets were to be in, according to call for bids by Chairman Rathjen, of the Market Committee. There are four or five bids in, but these will not be opened until later, just in time to make a recommendation to the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

THE HEARING CONTINUED

Preliminary Trial of Mr. Gaston M. Murrell, Charged With Burning Store, Postponed Until This Morning—Developments.

The preliminary trial of Mr. Gaston M. Murrell, charged with burning his grocery store on Fifth street last Sunday morning, was called in Justice Furlong's court yesterday morning at 10 o'clock but the hearing was continued for the defendant until the same hour this morning.

Mr. Murrell appeared yesterday with his counsel, Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy, who stated that they had just been employed in the case and desired some time to arrange the defense. To this end during the day a number of witnesses were summoned for the defendant, among them being Messrs. Martin O'Brien, J. M. Woollard, William Niestlie, J. E. Silvia, J. D. Kelly, Mayor W. E. Springer and Mr. J. W. Murrell. It is probable that most of these are character witnesses, Mr. Murrell being able to prove as good a character as any man in the city of Wilmington. Herbert McClammy, Esq., will represent the Insurance Department of the State, Deputy Commissioner W. A. Scott having instituted the proceedings against Mr. Murrell. The following additional witnesses have been summoned for the State: Capt. John Barry, Messrs. Louis Freimuth and B. C. Moore, the druggist. It is not known what it is expected to prove by these gentlemen.

Mr. Murrell was continued under the same bond until the hearing this morning. Although it is understood that Mr. Murrell can establish a complete alibi, being at his home on the night of the fire, it is stated that very little attention has been given by the attorneys for the defense to this aspect of the case, from the fact that the State is understood to be endeavoring to show that the fire by an arrangement of combustibles might have been put out several hours before and been discovered only later in the morning. It will be recalled that the fire, by a singular coincidence, was discovered by Mr. Joseph W. Murrell, a nephew of the defendant, while he was rturning from his work at the Western Union Telegraph office after closing about 1 o'clock. Mr. Murrell has been summoned to testify for the defense and will be able to give perhaps the most authoritative testimony as to the character of the fire when it was first discovered. It was Mr. Murrell, the operator, who first sent in the alarm and saved the premises from total destruction. The case was widely discussed in the city yesterday, the public being dumbfounded at the charge preferred against a man of such high standing as the defendant.

SUPERINTENDENT G. D. PUGH.

Manifestation of Esteem by Office Force in Charleston, S. C.

As a testimonial of the high esteem in which they hold him the clerks and office force at the office of the superintendent of the Charleston division of the Atlantic Coast Line Wednesday presented Superintendent George D. Pugh with a very handsome gold watch chain, the pendant being set with a diamond.

Superintendent Pugh has recently been transferred to Savannah to take charge of that division and on the eve of his departure the freight clerks, office force and others, between 50 and 75 persons in all, gathered in the office of the superintendent, and when he looked up from his work to ascertain the cause of the invasion of his office, Miss L. L. Mohlmann stepped forward and made the formal presentation.

Superintendent Pugh, who was taken entirely by surprise, responded to the presentation speech in a few appropriate sentences in which he feelingly expressed his appreciation of the loyalty and co-operation accorded him by the force.

May Erect Freight Station There.

For a consideration of $4,000, it was learned yesterday that General Manager Skelding, of the Consolidated Company, had purchased from the George H. Hutaff, the property at southwest corner of Tenth and Princess streets. It was further stated that the property was purchased by Mr. Skelding for the Consolidated Company, which will most probably establish the freight depot of the line on the property. The property is well located for this purpose and it is believed that a removal from Ninth and Orange streets will shortly take place. Later it is certain that the car barns of the company will be transferred to some point on the line on Princess street.

Water Report Not Ready.

Chairman Wood, of the Water Works Committee, says that it will be impossible for him to receive the report from Colonel J. L. Ludlow in regard to the purchase of the Clarendon Water Works plant in time to submit it at the regular meeting of the Board Monday night, but that it will be in very shortly and may be ready for submission at any special meetings that may be called a little later by the Mayor. Colonel Ludlow has just made a report on the sewerage system for the town of Reidsville, N. C. The sewerage of that municipality is now being handled by the septic tank system.

COMING IN NUMBERS

Wilmington Preparing a Royal Welcome For Firemen at State Tournament.

DECORATIONS VERY GENERAL

Attendance Expected to Be Largest in Several Years—Some Towns and Cities to Send Nearly a Hundred Men—Parade.

The elaboration of bunting and bright colors on store fronts and office windows along the principal streets of the city admonishes one that the Firemen's Tournament is almost here. The laddies from all over the State and from adjoining States will begin arriving on Monday and by the middle of the week the crowds are expected to be immense. The railroads have given a very low rate, the prize list has been made very attractive, the schedules are the best and the officers of the State Association are looking for the largest attendance in years. Wilmington people generally have manifested a disposition to show the visitors on this occasion every courtesy and this is brightly reflected in the colors with which they are adorning their places of business downtown. It is to be hoped that all places will present a gay appearance by the arrival of the advance guard of these men who contribute so much to the protection of life and property in the Old North State.

A glance over the list of companies that have asked that accammodations be provided for them during the week indicates that not only will the outside attendance be large but that there will be a greater convention of firemen and assembling of apparatus than ever before. This is indicated in the fact that the Winston Salem Fire Department, for instance, will bring 70 men and apparatus, including the Salem Band. The department from the twin-city will travel in two special cars, appropriately decorated, and will leave home Monday. The companies of the department will give a parade on their home streets either before or after the tournament. There will be companies and delegates from High Point, Greensboro, two companies; Fayetteville, Elizabeth City; Asheville, two companies; Morganton, Burlington, two companies; Charlotte, two companies; Concord, Chapel Hill, Durham, Dunn, Goldsboro, two companies; Graham, Statesville, Tarboro, Washington, four companies and delegates; Rome, Ga., Florence, S. C., Henderson, Hickory, Kinston, Monroe, Morganton, Newbern, two companies, Raleigh, three companies, Rocky Mount, Salisbury, two companies, Southern Pines, Sanford, Gastonia, Louisburg, Spencer, Mount Olive and others not yet definitely heard from including Wilson, and some South Carolina cities, Union, Anderson, etc.

Goldsboro will bring all told about fifty men, a lot of apparatus and two automobiles to enter the parade.

SOUVENIRS AT LUMINA.

Surprise Sprung on Patrons at Gay Pavilion Last Night.

Patrons of the dance last night at Lumina, of which there were a large number, experienced a delightful surprise in receiving from the Consolidated Company, owners of the pretty pavilion, handsome souvenirs of an Oriental and fantastic character. The presentation was not announced before hand and the many dancers on floor were presented with the favors soon after the music started, so that after the first few sets, the dance floor presented a gay appearance, with the merry whirl of young people bearing gracefully aloft, the pleasant little remembrances from the company, which is deeply appreciative of the patronage that has been extended to the pleasure pavilion this season by Wilmington folks especially.

It is understood that souvenirs are to be presented in the same maner as a surprise one night each week for the remainder of the Summer. These will be in different form each week, but will always be pretty and appropriate to a seashore hop. The souvenirs are not cheap, shoddy favors, but of the best, and such as are usually distributed among dancers upon the more formal occasions in this city "Souvenir Night," will be looked forward to each week with much pleasure by many patrons of the delightful resort.

"THE CAR OF QUALITY."

Messrs. Platt & Co. Present the Ford to the Trade.

Elsewhere in today's paper will be found an announcement of the Ford automobiles by Messrs. Platt & Co., of Wilmington, the exclusive agents in this territory for this celebrated manfacture of motor cars. The new garage on Second street, in Purcell avenue, has been completed and some of the prettiest and fastest machines now seen in Wilmington highways are "Fords." The firm would be pleased to talk over the situation to anyone interested in automobiling. The Ford is well known everywhere and the Wilmington agents are prepared to talk prices, speed or service.

SET BACK FOR TAFT.

Secretary Taft's friends are feeling good over his victory in securing the endorsement of the Ohio Republican State Committee for the Presidential nomination next year, but there are many who believe that it will prove to be a set back for Secretary Taft's ultimate chances. Senator Foraker's open letter is of a defiant tone and while the vote in the committee was overwhelmingly against him, 15 to 6, the division in Ohio Republican ranks, with Foraker still in the opposition, is taken to bode no good for Taft.

Foraker seems to hang back for fear Taft will have the tariff revised all in a lump, but the Washington Post sets him at ease by the following reassuring statement:

"Senator Foraker insists that Secretary Taft file a bill of particulars and let the people of Ohio know what sort of tinkering he purposes to perform on the tariff. To an impartial observer this is an interrogation the Senator should propound to a certain G. O. P. It is well understood that there is to be no tinkering with the tariff until there is another inauguration of a Republican President. The fiat has gone forth that the Sixtieth Congress shall play the Levite as it journeys down from Jerusalem to Jericho—it may look on the tariff, but it must pass on the other side, and thus history may yet perpetrate its favorable stunt of repeating itself and tariff reform come from the ministrations of some despised Samaritan of a Democratic Congress.

"We do not see how Senator Foraker's questions can give the slightest embarrassment to Secretary Taft. The Republican doctors of political economy have resolved to postpone the whole thing until after the election of 1908, and the inauguration of a Republican President in 1909. As in 1900 and 1904, tariff revision 'by the friends of protection,' will go in the platform. Whether it shall have any more binding force next time than it had last time is a secret in the keeping of the future. We know this—that if they live the tariff revision contemplated by the G. O. P. will largely be the work of Joseph G. Cannon, John Dalzell, Nelson W. Aldrich and Philander C. Konx, and we are sure that Senator Foraker will have to pester his brain with the rummagings of many an interrogation point to discover the slightest objection to any 'revision' any one of these gentlemen will assent to.

"Secretary Taft is counted among the 'revisionists.' Revision is a local question, and means free trade in what we buy and prohibitory duties on what we sell. It will give little concern to the Republican party. Senator Foraker need not walk the floor at inauspicious hours between low 12 and cockcrow over it."

The Star joins the Post in reassuring Senator Foraker (and at the same time reminding the people) that the tariff won't be revised very much in the house of its friends.

THE COTTON CROP.

There has been a big improvement in the cotton crops in the Carolina's, and if the crop has improved as much in the other States of late there will be another record breaking crop. However, the news from the Southwest, where there has been a terribly hot spell, is somewhat bearish. In consequence of it the price went up 10 to 15 points in New York on Wednesday.

Speaking of the weather and the crops, the well-posted New Orleans Picayune remarks that the past week or ten days has been a period of high temperature, with rather less rain than could be wished for the benefit of the cotton crop. Ordinarily, hot weather is favorable to cotton, but such weather should be interspread with showers. It is the showers that have been wanting during the past week, particularly in Texas, where so large a proportion of the cotton crop is grown.

While the high temperature, unrelieved by showers, has not been conducive to the well-being of cotton, it is not apparent that the crop has suffered to any great extent on that account as yet. The improvement, which has taken place within the last month, has been maintained, and although showers and a cooler temperature would be welcomed, there is no evidence that damage has so far resulted as cotton is concerned.

The main weakness attaching to cotton conditions this season is the fact that the crop is considerably backward by comparison with normal years. This condition renders the plants more sensitive to weather conditions and to the depredations of the boll weevils, where that pest has found a lodgment. On the whole, however, the cotton crop is doing well and improving, although still very late. In a few days the Government will issue its Agust report on condition, based upon replies from correspondents of an average date of July 25. This report is expected to show a fair gain in condition compared with the preceding month, although it does not look reasonable to expect a good average by comparison with either last year or the average for the August report.

The corn crop has improved quite as much as cotton, and although it is not believed that anything like a full crop can be made, the yield will be very much larger than looked possible some time back.

NEW YORK GROCERS CHEAT.

A dispatch from Albany, New York, discloses what is surprising to some extent, and shocking in some particulars, if what is telegraphed from New York's capital is true. That grocers purposely or unknowingly, beat the people of the State out of $20,000,000 annually by the use of inaccurate weights and measures, in the opinion of Fritz Reichmann, State superitendent of weights and measures. He is conducting an inspection in the various cites.

He visited twenty grocery stores and in nearly every place found the measures were deficient. Supt. Reichmann said that the average grocer seemed not to know that there is a difference of 15 per cent. between dry and liquid measures. He stated that in many butcher shops in New York some time ago, certain clerks received no salary.

"A certain amount of meat was dealt out to them in the morning," said the superintendent, "and what they made off of it was their wages. In other words their pay depended on how much overweight their sales would show at the close of a day's business."

As a matter of fact, the scales throughout the country are probably as badly off as the clocks and watches.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—"Mr. Knox is willing to be President," says a New York paper. Very likely, but the consent of a few million other people will be a necessary preliminary.—Providence Bulletin.

—Thomasville, N. C., comes forward with the claim that it makes one million chairs every year. Evidently the place is tired of going way back and sitting down.—Washington Post.

—Some of the friends of Mr. Kitchin gleem to be disturbed over the rumor that Mr. Simmons is going to buck against him. They think that Mr. Simmons should be hands off. But why?—Charlotte Chronicle.

—"It has been made very plain that Gov. Glenn likes the limelight," remarks the Albany Journal. "It has been made equally plain that he didn't like the lime handed him by Judge Pritchard.—Washington Post.

—Two Christian Scientist churches were dedicated in this State Sunday—one in Wilmington and one in Newbern. So far, the Charlotte Chrstian Scientists are confined to a rented hall, but it will not be long before they will be arranging for the laying of a corner-stone.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—There is no law on the statute books of North Carolina that is more openly violated than the law against selling cigarettes to minors. No one seems to regard this law—dealers openly violate it and officers of the law do not seem to try to enforce it. Better that there was no such law at all, since a dead letter law has a tendency to bring all laws into disrepute, if not contempt.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

—Whatever the final adjudication of the Supreme bench touching the conflict between Federal and State authority in North Carolina, the present situation in that State is a complete vindication of the statesmanship of John T. Morgan and Edmund W. Pettus, in opposition to the rate bill of the Fifty-Ninth Congress that kept the country in a state of agony for many months. The Alabama Senators contended that there was ample authority reserved to the States to regulate railroads within their respective geographical limits.

—The News worked hard for the establishment of a reformatory and at length an appropriation was made for that purpose. According to the provisions of the reformatory bill a meeting of the directors was to be called by the Governor by September 1st. Since there seems to be no move on the part of Governor Glenn o rthose with whom the matter was left, we beg to call their attention to the mater. The people of this Sate worked too hard for the victory they won to have the matter fall down or be retarded by neglect or through oversight. We trust that this delay is not intentional.—Charlotte News.

A SURPRISE.

[Original.]

We had been married but a few months when I was obliged to leave my Marian on a business trip to the orient. I expected to be gone three months at the outside, but was absent eight. I had frequent letters from my wife and knew that she was in excellent health, so I had nothing to worry about.

I reached New York at 9 in the morning by steamer and at 10 drove up to the door of my house. I had carried the latchkey with me on my key ring and let myself in. Seeing no one below, I ran upstairs to my wife's room, thinking only of the transports of our meeting after my long absence. I was surprised to find the door locked. I knocked, rattled the knob—indeed, made every demonstration of one burning to get in and take my beloved one in my arms. Presently I heard the words on the other side of the door:

"Go away!"

The voice was not my wife's, but it was a woman's. I had no mind to be thus treated on my return after so long an absence and kept on knocking and rattling the knob. Presently I heard a sound inside that resembled nothing I had ever heard unless it was the first effort of a young rooster to crow. I was puzzled. What could it mean? I gave a kick at the door with my foot. In another moment I heard the same voice say:

"Do stop that noise and go away!"

"What does it all mean?" I shouted.

But there was no response, and after giving another kick I concluded to accept the situation and went downstairs. I touched a button in the library for Peggy, the maid I had left at the house when I went abroad, but instead of Peggy a new girl answered the summons.

"Where's Mrs. Budd?" I asked.

"Don't know."

"Don't know? You're the maid, aren't you?"

"Don't know."

"Do you understand English?"

"Don't know."

"Never mind. That'll do. Go back. I don't want you."

It took these four sentences to get her out of the room, and I was trying to think up some other method of solving the riddle when I heard the front door open. I went into the hall, but not in time to see who had come in. I heard or thought I heard a footstep going upstairs, but city houses are always dark, and mine is darker than most of them, so I couldn't see who it was. I heard a light knock on a door (my wife's, perhaps). The door was opened long enough for some one to pass in; then it shut.

This was maddening. A woman had my wife a prisoner, and all the knocking of which I was capable would not gain me admittance, yet here was a person—the step sounded like a man's—whose lightest rap was an "open sesame." No one in the house but a maid who could say nothing but "don't know"—at least I supposed there was no one else—but to make sure I went upstairs and looked into every room. While passing my wife's room I heard that spring chicken crowing again. I went back to the library and paced the floor, resolving to waylay any one who might have gone into the room from which I was debarred—that is, if any one had gone into the room—when he, she or it came out—that is, if he, she or it ever did come out.

I didn't have to wait long before I heard the door open and a man's step coming down the stairs. I confronted him in the hall.

"Well, sir," I said, "what are you doing here?"

"What are you doing here?" he retorted, bristling.

"I am the owner of this house."

"The deuce you are!" with evident surprise.

"Yes, I am, and I'm kept out of my wife's bedroom. There's nobody to tell me what is going on and"—

"You must excuse me, sir; I'm in a hurry." And he went out and shut the door.

"Well, I'll be hanged!" I said to myself. "This is agonizing."

I went back into the library. It wasn't more than ten minutes more before I heard a ring at the telephone upstairs. A woman's voice answered the ring. This was one-half the dialogue, the half I heard:

"Yes, I'm Miss Arbuckle."

"You don't mean it."

"Ha, ha, ha! Cleverly managed."

"All right. Goodby."

Another ten minutes passed when I heard the door open again and a voice called to me to come up. A uniformed nurse ushered me into my wife's room. Marian was lying on the bed and beside her a nine pound chunk of flesh.

After I had taken both mother and child in one embrace, nearly smothering the child, I asked a few questions.

"She wished to give you a pleasant surprise," said the nurse.

"It was certainly a surprise," I replied. "The biggest part of it was my treatment in my own house after my long absence. I suppose the man I met in the hall was the doctor."

"Yes; he called me up by telephone and told me how he kept the secret."

"And you're the woman who told me to go away from my own door?"

"I was bathing the baby."

"And that's the little rooster that crowed?"

"You mean cried, I suppose."

"Well, I suppose he's come in here to take my place as head of the house."

And I soon found that he had.

Lost $153 in Money.

Complaint was made yesterday to Justice Bornemann that Mrs. L. J. Sprague, wife of the proprietor of the Colonial Inn, had lost a roll of bills containing $153, and that it was believed that some of the servants had taken it from where it had been dropped. Juctice Bornemann went to the hotel and investigated the matter, but could do nothing toward the recovery of the money. Mrs. Sprague had a few minutes before she discovered the loss, paid a bill from the amount and was certain that the money had been dropped immediately in the hotel. Several submitted to search in order that suspicion might not attach to them, but no trace of the money could be found.

CHANGE OF MANAGEMENT.

Capt. Miller Retires From Charge of Acme Tea Chest Interests.

Capt. Will L. Miller will on August 6th retire from the management of the extensive interests of the Acme Tea Chest Company, in Wilmington and vicinity, and will most probably be succeeded by Mr. David Griffith, of Glasgow, who spent some time here earlier in the Summer. The retirement of Capt. Miller is that he may devote all of his time to large individual interests, including towing and litgherage on the river, in which he has been engaged for some time. He will continue his office in Room No. 412 Southern Building, and the location of the Acme Tea Chest Company's office will be announced later.

Capt. Miller has been the American representative of the Acme Tea Chest Company since it began operations in the United States nine years ago and the establishment of the plant here has been a wonderful factor in the development of Wilmington and surrounding country. Twenty or 30 cargoes of veneering timber have been cut in this territory and exported from Wilmington in the largest ocean-going steamships, the industry bringing thousands of dollars to this section of the country. It is to be regretted that Capt. Miller is to retire from a business which has been so prosperous under his charge, but it is good to know that he has such extensive personal interests in Wilmington as to guarantee that he will remain in this city with his excelent family. The Acme Tea Chest Company will begin operations under the new management early in the Fall.

RAMS INEFFECTIVE.

Warships That Have Them Do Not Dare to Use Them.

It is proposed to omit the ram from the battleships of the Lord Nelson type and the cruisers of the Minotaur class, says a London dispatch to the Philadelphia Ledger. The ram is a weapon that has played a prominent part in naval warfare and appeals to the popular imagination, but it is regarded as effective no longer. It came into general use with the Hotspur class. These were battleships of 4,000 tons, with a speed of eight knots. A vessel of this displacement and speed might have many opportunities of ramming an adversary, but the service men of today regard the weapon as a troublesome incumbrance.

"Take a ship like this," said the captain of one of the cruisers this week. "Here is a hull with a dead weight of 10,000 tons and a maneuvering speed of eighteen knots. Work out the momentum of such a blow as we could give, and the figures will make your brain reel. Before you can ram your ship you must catch her. With the high speed tactics of the present day this is practically an impossibility. You could only catch her if she were disabled, and no man would ram a helpless ship.

"Suppose, however, for the sake of argument, that you got home a square eighteen knot broadside blow. You would cut clean through your opponent. Nobody doubts that for a minute. But what state would you be in afterward? Your hull might sustain the impact, though I should predict a general bursting up of plate rivets.

"Half the boilers, whether they were box ended or water tubes, would blow up with the shock. Every steam pipe would give out. The bedding bolts of the main engines would be wrenched free, and the whole mass of machinery would be slung into the fore stokehold. Your heavy guns would jump clean out of their cradles. In fact, I would just as soon set light to the magazine room as use the ram in this ship, for similar result would be accomplished rather more quickly."

Intended to Pay.

The kindly old lady from the country had purchased a pair of gloves in a department store.

"Cash!" shouted the saleslady.

"My land," exclaimed the old lady, fumbling in her valise, "I'll give it to you just as soon as I find my pocketbook!"—Harper's Weekly.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

—Raleigh News and Observer: Among the visitors to Raleigh yesterday were Mr. William Hoster, of the New York American and Mr. J. A. Smith, of New York. Mr Hoster is a newepaper writer who is well known throughtout the country, having since 1900 been one of the principal men on the New York American. As the representative of that paper he went with Hon. William Jennings Bryan on his tour, and he will be remembered by the readers of the American as having accompanied Rockfeller to Europe, his stories descriptive of that trip proving of great interest. Mr. Hoster came to North Carolina to see Governor Glenn, to interview him about the railway rate litigation and to learn of the personality of North Carolina's Governor, who is now of interest to all the country. He will print a full page story of his visit here in the American and it is certain to be of interest. This morning he left for Richmond and there he will see Gov. Swanson and print a story of him and the rate troubles in Virginia which will also appear in the American. Mr. Hoster is one of the most capable and entertaining newspaper writers of the present time, and besides this is so clever personally that he makes friends wherever he goes. There is much interest felt in regard to the account that he will give of his impressions gained during his visit to Raleigh.

ONE KILLED, TWO WOUNDED

Desperate Deed of Beach Driver at Newport News.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Newport News, Va., August 1.—Garrett Walsh, a first class fireman belonging to the crew of the battleship Maine, was killed, and Chief Master at Arms T. F. Maddox and Chief Baker J. M. Ackerman, of the same ship, were wounded, the former probably fatally, by Fred Gutierrez, a "Beach wagon" driver in Phoebus tonight about 10 o'clock. Gutierrez was first arrested and taken to the Hampton jail the officers fearing that the excited crowd of soldiers and sailors on the streets of Phoebus would attempt lynching. The sailors had employed Gutierrez to drive them and a sick shipmate to Old Point. They were on their way to get the sick man when the driver stopped in front of the Palace Hotel, at Howard and Mallory streets and said he was going to get a drink. The sailors urged that they wanted to catch the 10:30 launch out to their ship and asked the driver to forego his drink and hurry on after the sick man. Then an argument over the payment of the fares started. By this time the entire party had entered the bar of the Palace Hotel and some hot words were passed. According to the story told by spectators Gutierrez caught Walsh in the collar and jerked him out the back door. Ackerman and a soldier named Smith followed; then Gutierrez drew a large knife and stabbed Ackerman in the arm. Flourishing his weapon, the driver threatened the sailors and soldiers and Walsh fled into a rear room of the hotel, closely followed by Gutierrez. In the meantime Maddox and others had come out of the bar and Maddox started for the room into which the other two had disappeared. Gutierrez appeared in the door and attacked the master at arms, stabbing him over the heart and inflicting other wounds about the body. Quite a crowd had gathered but before anyone could interfere Gutierrez made a break and escaped in the darkness. Walsh was found dead in the room with his throat cut, his heart pierced and his body badly cut in several other places.

Soon afterwards Town Sergeant Williams and officer Johnson found Gutierrez at his home in Asylum street and put him under arrest. On account of the number of excited soldiers and sailors who were talking freely of lynching, the sergeant hurried his prisoner over to Hampton and lodged him in jail there. Gutierrez, who appeared to be half drunk, said that the sailors had attempted to beat him.

Doctors are now working on Maddox, but it is said that his chances for life are slim. A coroner's inquest is being held over the remains of Walsh. Walsh was 35 years old and a native of Boston.

SLAYING IN RUSSIA AGAIN.

Thirty Men Shot Down in Bloody Fight at Lodz.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Lodz, Russian Poland, Aug. 1.—This city is again the scene of a strike movement, accompanied by violence, disorder and death. The troops encountered the strikers in the center of the town last night, and thirty men were killed or wounded. Ambulances immediately cleared the streets of the dead bodies. Business is at a standstill.

The strike would appear to be the beginning of a big labor war, and the workmen's unions are prepared for a long struggle. The immediate cause yesterday was the course pursued by the police during the last eight days in making a large number of arrests in attempts to break up the unions. The principal Socialist leaders have been thrown into jail.

A general strike has been declared and the Social Democrats and the Polish Socialists have called out 32,000 men. The Nationalists have been forced to join the committee of the amalgamated unions. The committee has ordered that all business in Lodz cease. Several shop keepers who refused to shut up have been shot.

Yesterday bands of laborers wrecked street street cars and used the cars as barricades from which to stone the police. The military forces were mobilized yesterday and at 9 P. M. there was prolonged fighting with the workmen in the centre of the town. The workmen fired several hundred shots from automatic pistols and did not disperse until they had been charged by cavalry. Ambulances at once cleared the street of the dead bodies.

The town was patrolled constantly last night by detachments of Cossacks and dragoons.

Today the troops started the electric cars again, but the passengers were attacked by gangs of workmen and a number of them were wounded.

BRITT-NELSON ENCOUNTER

Jimmy's Victim is Suffering—Receipts $25,000.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

San Francisco, August 1.—Suffering from the severe punishment received at the hands of Jimmy Britt in their 20-round fight, Battling Nelson is today attended by a physician. Nelson's condition is not serious but he is still at the baths and is reported to be suffering intensely from the blows rained upon him by Britt.

Jimmy Britt made the following statement regarding his fight with Battling Nelson last night:

"I have been going around two years claiming that I was Nelson's master, and not making any cry as is the custom of defeated fighters. I bided my time and the results you see. I never drew a long breath. I am willing to meet any 133 pound man in the world."

Nelson said: "Britt fought a good fight, but at that I think he won in the last round. I think I ate too much supper. They can't say I went the pace and lost. I did my best."

The club received thirty per cent. of the receipts. Of the fighters' money sixty per cent. went to the winner and forty to the loser. The total receipts approximated $25,000. Approximately 10,000 people attended.

WARM WIRELETS.

Near Kastoria, European Turkey, yesterday, district troops annihilated a great band, killing forty of the men and capturing nine.

A special from Athens, Ga., says a posse is pursuing two negro men who early yesterday entered the room of two young women students of the summer normal school at Candler Hall and attempted a criminal assault. The girls screamed so loudly that the men were frightened away.

At Montgomery, Ala. yesterday the general prohibition bill, which was reported adversely by the House committee on temperance was taken from the adverse calendar and placed on the favorable calendar for consideration today.

Renewing an old quarrel Ephraim Alsbrooke at Hopkinsville, Ky., yesterday attacked James Dunning with a mowing blade. Dunning fired two loads of squirrel shot into Alsbrooke's breast, killing him instantly. Both are prominent planters. Dunning surrendered.

Miss S. J. Crawford, aged 94, the oldest living member of the famous Crawford family, niece of William H. Crawford who came within one electoral vote of being elected President of the United States in 1831, and aunt of Senator Culberson, of Texas, is dying at her home in Harlem, Ga. Miss Crawford is the last of the original subscribers to the stock of the Georgia Railroad and is one of the wealthiest women of the South.

WILL DEEFEND HARRY THAW

Martin W. Littleton Will Lead at Next Trial.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, August 1.—Martin W. Littleton, former president of Brooklyn, and a lawyer and orator of wide reputation, will be chief counsel for Harry K. Thaw if he again faces a jury to answer the charge of killing Stanford White. Thaw announced the selection of Mr. Littleton today after a conference with his mother and his wife. It is said that Mr. Littleton's fee will be $25,000.

As chief counsel for Thaw, Mr. Littleton will succeed Delphin M. Delmas, the San Francisco lawyer who assumed charge of the defence soon after the opening of Thaw's first trial which resulted in a disagreement of the jury. He is regarded as an able trial lawyer.

It was Mr. Littleton who made the speech in the last Democratic convention in St. Louis nominating Alton B. Parker for the Presidency. He came to New York about ten years ago.

NO PROTEST FROM JAPAN.

Great American Fleet Making Ready to Go to Pacific.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 1.—Secretary Loeb said today that there had been no change in the plans to send the Atlantic battleship fleet to the Pacific ocean and that the necessary preparations for the trip are now being made by the Navy Department, and the voyage will be begun when the President gives the word.

Mr. Loeb said there was no foundation for the report that Secretary Metcalf had been or would be, asked to resign from the cabinet because of his announcement that the fleet would be in San Francisco harbor in the ear future. Secretary Loeb's statement that the fleet will go to the Pacific is the first direct announcement to that effect made at Oyster Bay.

Washington, Aug. 1.—No protest has been received from the Japanese government against the plan to send the Atlantic battleship fleet to the Pacific and none is expected. It is pointed out here that no basis exists for the protest or complaint as the fleet is to remain in American waters.

WILLIAMS LEADS VARDAMAN.

Democratic House Leader Will Be Mississippi's Next Senator.

(By Wire to the Morning Star).

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 2.—Incomplete returns from the Democratic primaries held yesterday throughout the State, at midnight showed Congressman John Sharp Wiliams leading Governor Vardaman for the Senatorial nomination about 3 to 1. The count is progressing slowly because of the extreme length of the ticket.

In the contest for Governor, Charles Scott and A. F. Noel are leading the other candidates.

A Chicken For Him.

Once upon a time a youth who had commenced to navigate the sea of matrimony went to his father and said:

"Father, who should be boss—I or my wife?"

Then the old man smiled and said:

"Here are 100 chickens and a team of horses. Hitch up the horses, load the chickens into the wagon and wherever you can find a man and his wife dwelling stop and make inquiry as to who is the boss. Wherever you find a woman running things leave a chicken. If you come to a place where the man is in control, give him one of the horses."

After seventy-nine chickens had been disposed of, says the San Francisco Chronicle, he came to a house and made the usual inquiry.

"I'm the boss o' this ranch," said the man.

"Got to show me."

So the wife was called, and she affirmed her husband's assertion.

"Take whichever horse you want," was the boy's reply.

So the husband replied, "I'll take the bay."

But the wife didn't like the bay horse, and she called her husband aside and talked to him. He returned and said, "I believe I'll take the gray horse."

"Not much," said Missouri. "You'll take a chicken."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Laurinburg, July 31: The town is now in the midst of an agitation for a graded school; an election is to be held on the 6th of August on the question, and those favoring and those opposed to this movement are busy at work on the question. Major Dixon State Auditor, was here tonight speaking in favor of the school. The indications now are that the election will be very close.

—Laurinburg, July 31: Laurinburg is to have new enterprises. One of them is to be a bank, the incorporators of which are John F. McNair, James A. Jones, and others. It is reported that Mr. W. H. Cooper, who has just retired from the postmastership, will be cashier. This will be a State bank, and will make three banking institutions for this town. The other corporation is the Colonial Screen Company, which is incorporated at $10,000. This company will manufacture wire window and door screens. The originators of this enterprise are said to be Judge Walter H. Neal and Contractor W. D. Tucker.

—Lumberton, July 31: Work on the graded school building is now going forward. It is to be completed by the first of next December. When it is finished Lumberton can claim the distinction of having one of the finest graded school buildings in the State. An expenditure of between $30,000 and $40,000 will have been made before it will be ready for occupancy. It is to be a modern building with new desks, black boards, maps, charts, and will be fitted up with electric lights and waterworks, and will be heated by steam. There will be 12 rooms besides the auditorium, which will, including space in the gallery, have a seating capacity of between five hundred and a thousand people. School will be conducted in the public school building and old dormitory building until the new building is completed. There are about four hundred white children of school age in the town. A splendid corps of teachers has been secured for the coming year, and from all indications Lumberton will soon have a school system second to no town in the State.

—Edenton, July 31: Dr. William R. Capehart, one of the most prominent men in this section, and known at one time as the "largest fisherman in the world," died at his country seat, Avoca, N. C., ten miles from this city at 1:55 o'clock, this morning. He had been in bad health for two years and had been treated by specialties in Baltimore, where he was well known to many of the older residents. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clara Capehart (who was a Miss Bond of Edenton); one daughter, Miss Clara Capehart and one son, W. R. Capehart, Jr. Dr. Capehart's plantation and fishery had been in the family for seven generations, and there are still living three negro servants who are the descendants of Capehart slaves of 150 years ago. Avoca was one of the largest steam seine fisheries in the world, the seine there being six miles in legth. Single hauls of 300,000 herring have been recorded there. Dr. Capehart was a wealthy and hospitable Southern planter of the old school. He served in the Confederate army of the West and was later one of Gen. Robert E. Lee's surgeons.

—Laurinburg, July 31: This has indeed been a good year for the melon growers of this country; several of the cantaloupe men have gathered over 200 crates to the acre, while some of them have passed the 300 mark. So far the best record attained has been that of Mr. John Walter Jones, one of the county commissioners. He has 5 1-2 acres in cantaloupes, and Saturday night he gathered over 1,500 crates, with fine prospects of reaching the 2,000 mark this week. The peculiar beauty of these fine crops, so far as the growers are concerned is the fact that they are netting them about a dollar a crate. The watermelon men have been having fine success also. The crop is turning out to be very good, and is bringing fine prices. Mr. H. O. Covington one day last week through his agent, Mr. Jasper T. Gibson, sold a very fine car of melons for the unprecedented price of $350. The cantaloupe and watermelon growers are indeed happy this year. They failed to make money last year, but are coming all right this season. This applies to the new territory around Gibson, also which was planted this season for the first time.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, August 1.—The cotton market was quiet during today's trading with fluctuations irregular. The close was barely steady at a decline of 3 points on August, but 1 to 4 points higher on later months. Sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 bales. The opening was firm at an advance of 4 to 7 points in response to higher cables and during the early session prices worked up to a net advance of 7 to 9 points on the active months as a result of covering and a continuation of the buying started recently by more bullish view of the probable showing by the government's condition report at noon tomorrow. The advance was also assisted by dry, weather in the Western belt, and the forecast calling for continued clear weather in that section, but there was realizing just under 12 cents for October and the market later worked back to within a point or two of last night's finals. It firmed up again in the afternoon on further bullish condition reports, but after selling to about the previous best point eased off again in the late trading. A private report issued during the day reported an average condition of 76.8 per cent., and a canvass of eighty members of the local trade, with an average expectation of 77 per cent., with the highest individual estimate 84 per cent., and the lowest 74. The government report tomorrow compares with 72 per cent. last month, and 82.9 per cent. last year.

Receipts at the ports today 253 bales, against 602 last week, and 2,843 last year. For the week, 8,000 bales, against 7,953 last week, and 29,970 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, none, against 131 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, none, against 131 last year, and at Houston, 99 bales, against 554 last year.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scienists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being strongly urged; careless then being fatal to longlevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine, that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, Druggist. 50 cents.

PEACE NOT WAR FOR CIVILIZATION

Eloquence of American Delegate Stirs Conference at The Hague Yesterday.

ARBITRATION FOR NATIONS

Joseph H. Choate, Great American Lawyer, Speaks for Humanity Submitted Plan for Great Tribunal for all Civil Nations.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

The Hague, Aug. 1.—The general opinion expressed tonight is that the real peace conference began today, with the initiative of the American delegates, who for their speeches today on arbitration, are praised for their determination to carry a logical propositon, that is believed to be the most important effort towards he pacificaion of the world.

Joseph H. Choate and James Brown Scott, of the American delegation, before the special committee on arbitration reviewed the American proposition dealing with arbitraton from the standpont of humanity as well as of international law.

Prof. DeMaartens, of Russia, declared that the principle of arbitration now under discussion was proposed by Russia in 1899. Germany, Great Britain and Mexico, in general, supported the American proposition. Dr. Drago, of Argentine, supported the Argentine proposal.

Mr. Choate in his speech explained that the instructions given to the American delegates were to see that the judges of this court be selected from different countries and that they should represent the different languages of the world. The court was to be of such dignity, consideration and rank that the best and ablest jurists could accept appointment thereto. The cause of general arbitration as a substitute for war in the settlement of international differences has advanced with leaps and bounds since the call for the first conferece. Nothing more strongly demonstrates the utility of the great work of that conference than the general resort of nations to arbitration agreements among themselves, as such means of securing justice and protection.

"Our hope is to preserve and perpetuate the excellent work of the first conference, carrying it on to its logical conclusion. The work of that conference, however, has not proved altogether adequate to meet the progressive demands of nations. The plan proposed by the United States," said Mr. Choate, "does not depart from the voluntary court already established. No nation will be compelled to come before it, but it will be open to all who desire to settle ther differences by peaceful methods."

Mr. Choate described the project article by article, in eloquent terms, dwelling on every salient point. The United States proposed that the expenses of the new court and the salaries of the judges be borne by the powers in common. This would make the court free to whom ever appealed to it. Mr. Choate proposed that a suitable committee be appointed to frame a constitution for and decide upon the powers and character of the projected court, saying he thought it would be well to have 17 judges, instead of 15, so that the country representation may be more general. In conclusion Mr. Choate said:

"It is six weeks since this conference first assembled, and there is certainly no time to lose. We have done much to regulate war, and very little to prevent it. Let us unite on this great pacific measure and satisfy the world that the second peace conference really desires that in the future peace and not war be the normal condition of civilized nations."

FOUR MEN LOST LIVES

Trestle Collapsed With Train Loaded With Stone.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

San Pedro, Cal., August 1.—Four men lost their lives today when four hundred feet of the trestle leading from the wharf of the Pacific Storage Company collapsed. The dead men were crushed by carloads of rock or drowned in the harbor. Four others who went down with them were rescued. All were Greek laborers who were put to work this morning and their names were not on the payroll. The trestle collapsed as a train of twenty flats laden with rock backed on the wharf.

KOREANS RESIST JAPANESE TROOPS

Bloody Battle Lasted Several Hours and Many Men Were Killed.

JAPS DISARMING KOREANS

Mikado's Troops Are Taking Charge of Hermit Kingdom and Expected to Preserve Order — Prevented Great Uprising.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Seoul, August 1.—A Korean battalion mutinied this morning against the disarmament order and engaged in a fight for several hours with the Japanese troops near the consulate quarter with rifles and a machine gun. The casualties are unknown.

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 1.—In a conflict today at the west gate barracks between Japanese troops and Korean soldiers, forty or fifty were wounded, including several Janpanese who arrested and imprisoned them. Firing has ceased. The American consulate was struck by several bullets. No foreigners were injured and the city appears to be safe.

According to official reports received by General Hasegawa up to 9 o'clock tonight there were 120 casualties among the Koreans as a result of the riots growing out of the disbandment of the Korean troops.

Marquis Ito today assured the Emperor of his complete safety. Marquis Ito provided the foreign consulates with guards tonight as a precaution for safety.

The Japanese military take the credit for prompt suppression of an outbreak, having prepared to suppress all garrisons in the event of a sympathetic uprising.

The imprisonment of fugitives from the Shiawa regiments continues. The remainder of the Korean army, distributed throughout the country, will be disbanded as fast as the imperial rescript reaches the different stations. No trouble is anticipated. The residency general regards the urgent question, that relating to abdication, settled; and believes that an army of several thousand Japanese is sufficient to maintain order.

Forty Koreans Killed.

Washington, Aug. 1.—A dispatch received at the State Department today from Consul General Thomas Sammons at Seoul, Korea, says that forty Koreans were killed or wounded today in a fight precipitated by the disarmament of the Korean army. The casualties on the Japanese side, the dispatch adds, were slight.

No details of the disarmament of the Koreans and of the trouble which today resulted from it, have been received at the Japanese embassy in this city. Affairs in Korea not having a direct bearing on the United States, the foreign office at Tokio is not keeping the embassy here informed of what is going on there evrey day.

"We have not received any advices regarding the disarmament of the Korean army by Japanese," said Miyaoka, the counselor of the embassy today. If the news of their disarmament is correct, it must have been dictated solely by the necessity of maintaining peace in the country."

JUDGE PRITCHARD OVERRULED.

Justice Gary, of South Carolina, Rules as to Coast Line.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Columbia, S. C., August 1.—Justice Ernest A. Gary, of the State Supreme Court, today in the case of W. G. Geraty against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, delivered an opinion involving states' rights in direct opposition to a recent opinion of Federal Judge J. C. Pritchard in a similar case.

The case is one for damages against the Atlantic Coast Line for more than $2,000. Relying upon the decision of Judge Pritchard in the case of Leo vs. The Atlantic Coast Line, in which it was held that the defendant corporation was not to be considered a domestic corporation of South Carolina, but a Virginia corporation and properly within the jurisdiction of the United States courts in such cases alleging damages, the railroad contended that the defendant is not a corporation of good under the laws of the State of South Carolina, as alleged in the complaint.

Judge Gary held that this railroad company is a South Carolina corporation. If it is not a domestic, then, he holds, "the operation of its railroads in this State is unlawful." Judge Gary holds that the Atlantic Coast Coast Line Company was formed by merger subsequent to the enactment of the constitution of 1905, and, therefore, is operating in this State under a charter given by the State, that, otherwise, it is a trespasser and has no right within the State.

He declares a "domesticated corporation" to be a foreign corporation which has become practically the same as a domestic corporation and insists that the laws of the State apply equally.

PROHIBITION IN GEORGIA.

Both Houses Have Passed Bill Up to Governor Smith.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., August 1.—The Senate spent three hours today considering the prohibition bill as it came from the House for concurrent action. Several amendments were offered, but were defeated. The bill was passed as it came from the House, with the exception that a verbal correction was made, which will necessitate the bill returnig to the House for confirmation of this correction before the act can go to Governor Smith for his signature.

THREE MURDERS ARE MYSTERIOUS

New York Again Stirred By Mistreatment and Mutilation of Young Girl.

SHE WAS ALSO STRANGLED

Three Murders Strikingly Similar. Italian Shoemaker Arrested on Suspicion—Thousands of People Attacked His Shop.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 1.—"The grave yard," as the foreign populated neighborhoond on First Avenue, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, is known locally, gave up today a fresh crime rivalling in atrocity the mysterious butcheries of last week. The latest discovered victim was an eight year-old girl, and, like the two young women murdered, she had been shockingly mistreated before death and the body mutilated when life was extinct.

The three murders are strikingly similar. Last Thursday night a woman was strangled in a 22nd Street boarding house; the next morning the body of a still unidentified woman, who had been choked to death, was found in an areaway in East 90th Street. Katie Pritschler, daughter of a restaurant waiter, disappeared a week ago today, and was killed that night. A ribbon placed about the throat and drawn so tightly that it cut the flesh showed how she died. Her body was found today.

If the brutality of the murders can be qualified, that of the Pritschler girl ranks first. She was assaulted, murdered and then her lifeless form was horribly mutilated.

The "Grave Yard" takes its name from the proximity of the old Thirteenth Street Cemetery, and the locality has been the scene of several revolting murders

The majority of the residents are foreigners. Varl Pritschler, the father of Katie, is a hard working, respectable citizen. He has several other children, all younger than Katie. The girl left home at 349 East Thirteenth Street, last Thursday night, to play in the street. When she failed to return the father notified the police and a general alarm was sent out. The body was today discovered within a block of her home and scarcely a hundred yards from the location of a placard placed by the father, calling attention to the fact that his child was lost. How the body could have remained undiscovered for a week is not explained.

The girl's body was stumbled upon by a woman who visited the basement of the house at 203 First Avenue. It lay upon a berry crate with seemingly no effort at concealment.

"You can say for me," Coroner Harburger declared, "that the crimes in Berlin, of which the newspapers have told, have not been one-thousandth part as bad as the murder of this little girl."

The coroner would not permit the body to be photographed. At the corner's direction, Gaetano Rippolano, whose cobbler shop adjoins the girl's home, was arrested and asked to explain his absence from his shop on last Friday. He established the fact that he had spent the day at Bristol, Conn. The girl is said to have frequented Rippolano's place and a search of the shop brought to light a man's shirt which bore red stains. The cobbler was arraigned and remanded to the coroner. Giusseppe Bonfanto, Rippolano's partner, was questioned, but threw little light on the case and was not detained. The police also began a search for a woman who is said to have formerly roomed at the Pritschler home, but who left there after a quarrel and took lodgings in the house where the girl's body was found.

"When news of the finding of the little one's body spread through the neighborhood, excitement rose to such a pitch that the removal of the body and the arrest of Rippolano caused almost a riot. Many thousands of persons were in the nearby streets when the wagon from the morgue arrived. At sight of the covered body the crowd vented its grief and rage in a babel of tongues. The police were compelled to use force to get through the street. Soon afterwards the arrest of the cobbler became known, and the crowd charged the prisoner's shop.

Rippolano had been safely removed to the station house, but his shop window's were smashed, and only the determined front of the police reserves, who clubbed right and left, prevented greater damage.

John Kurmicho, the Russian watchman under arrest as a suspicious person, and who is said to have been seen in the company of the girl whose body was found in the areaway on East 90th Street, was today remanded without bail until Saturday. No clue to the murder in 22nd Street was secured today.
